Epilepsy Master Class – Melbourne – 16 August 2008

Dear colleague

The 3rd ESA Epilepsy Master Class will be held in Melbourne at the Novotel St Kilda on Saturday August 16th, with special guest moderator Prof David Chadwick from the UK.

Titled "The Art and Science of Clinical Epileptology", this one-day, case-based course will highlight common and sometimes difficult problems in the management of adolescent and adult patients with epilepsy. The discussion of treatment strategies will be based on evidence from recent studies, complemented by the opinions of experienced epileptologists. It is thus hoped that the Master Class will be a mixture of evidence-based practice and clinical wisdom.

The course will be directed at neurology trainees and practising neurologists, but more experienced neurologists and epileptologists might well find the discussions instructive.

The ESA is grateful for the generous sponsorship provided once again by UCB Pharma. UCB Pharma will subsidise the cost of registration and provide air travel and Friday night accommodation for interstate delegates. New Zealand delegates will be provided with subsidised registration and accommodation. Formal invitations will be posted in May and places will be limited to 100 delegates. For further inquiries and expressions of interest, please contact enquiries@epilepsy-society.org.au

We look forward to seeing you there.
